CHAPTER 5
Conclusions and Recommendations

5.1 Conclusions
In this project will be build the process of payment. This process is that the customers can pay online that use PayPal account to buy also. Because both of them can make the customers more easily and free for buy Phone that they like. And especially all those payments are really security for make them have more believe on us and have more comfortable for paying. Other one they can pay directly to deliver for the products too, if they have no Visa Card or something else. All this case is really make the customers freely to choose how to pay. And also it will be make the customers be convenience for the choosing and buying the products. Because they don’t go far away to find the good shops they just use and surf the internet for find the new products and their favorite products to buy or order through online. This is the easy one for the customers. On the other hand, this final project is focus on the customers that make them have loyalty to us. That is why this project will provide all the customers have easier to buy the products and pay case too. By the way this project will have list the customers in order to have to repair or guaranty for the products to them. This point will make the customers have loyalty to us and more over we can increase more customers too.

5.2 Recommendations
In this project there are many features as I told above but also this project has a few features that this project doesn’t include in the project’s feature as:

1) This project doesn’t include the coupon code feature
2) This project doesn’t include the discount feature
3) And also this project doesn’t include the warranty the products feature as well.
REFERENCES

